DETAILED ACTION

Remarks

This Office action is responsive to applicant's amendment filed April 25, 2006.

Claims 1-79 are pending, of which claims 29-79 are withdrawn from consideration.

Claim Objections

Claim 11 is objected to because of the following informalities:

1. In claim 11 at line 5, it is suggested to change "including natural, and commercial grades" to --including natural and commercial grades-- (i.e. deletion of comma)

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The rejection of claims 11 and 14 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph has been withdrawn.

New Rejection:

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 14 is rejected under 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 1745

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite in that it fails to point out what is included or excluded by the claim language. This claim is an omnibus type claim. Claim 14 as amended recites the glass-ceramic as comprising "... related commercial ceramic materials." It appears to the examiner that this limitation is derived from paragraph [0082] of the corresponding published application, however the specification does not remedy the deficiencies of claim 14 in this regard.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 and 103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4, 6, 9 and 19-28 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kawakami (U.S. Pat. 6,040,087)

Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Kawakami.

Claims 5, 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kawakami.

Art Unit: 1745

Claims 10-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kawakami in view of Jung (U.S. Pat. 3,607,787)

The rejection(s) is maintained for the reasons of record. The examiner notes that the amendment to claims 11 and 14 were submitted solely in response to the 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph rejection as set forth in the prior Office action (rejection now withdrawn).

Applicant submits that in contrast to the present invention, Kawakami does not teach or suggest a composite material including at least one hollow region for containing a gaseous element—the core layer [101] of Kawakami is said to not be a hollow region. In reply, the examiner asserts that the claims require the base material to define a hollow region. As detailed in the prior Office action, in Kawakami the base material [102] indeed defines a hollow region which itself is represented by the core layer [101], i.e. the core layer is inside the hollow region. To use a common analogy, a gasoline can is hollow. Even when filled to its capacity with gasoline, the can itself is hollow. It appears to the examiner, however, that what applicant is really trying to differentiate by way of argument is that Kawakami is a hydrogen storage alloy (which absorbs and releases hydrogen gas stored as a hydride) while applicant's disclosed invention stores hydrogen gas as a pressurized gas. (paragraph [0016] of the specification) At present, however, the claims merely recite "containing the gaseous element". As such, that Kawakami contains the gaseous element with a hydrogen storage alloy is not considered to be precluded by the scope of the present claims.

The examiner notes that arguments against Jung appear to be directed to this reference failing to remedy alleged differences between Kawakami and the present claims.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
